Customer Support Knowledge Base

This document contains sample support information for testing a RAG-based customer support chatbot.

1. Product Information

• Customers can purchase products through the online store.

• Product availability depends on current inventory.

• Product pages contain the available sizes, colors, specifications, and prices.

• If a product is out of stock, customers can check the product page later for availability.

2. Orders

• After placing an order, customers receive an order confirmation.

• Customers can use their order number to check order status.

• Orders that have not yet been shipped may be eligible for cancellation depending on processing status.

• Once an order has shipped, cancellation may no longer be possible.

3. Shipping

• Standard shipping normally takes 3 to 7 business days after dispatch.

• Delivery times can vary depending on the customer's location and courier service.

• Customers receive tracking information after the order is dispatched.

• If tracking information has not updated for several business days, customers should contact support.

4. Returns and Refunds

• Customers may request a return for eligible products within 30 days of delivery.

• Returned products should be unused and in their original condition with applicable packaging and tags.

• Some products may not be eligible for return.

• Approved refunds are generally processed after the returned product is received and inspected.

• The time for a refund to appear in the customer's account depends on the payment provider.

5. Payments

• Customers can pay using the payment methods displayed during checkout.

• A payment confirmation is provided after a successful transaction.

• If a payment fails, customers should verify their payment details and try again.

• For a duplicate charge or an unknown transaction, customers should contact support with the relevant order information.

6. Account and Login

• Customers can create an account using their email address and password.

• If a customer forgets the password, they can use the password-reset option on the login page.

• Customers should keep their login credentials private.

• Support should never request a customer's password.
